Interest shall be paid for delayed payments following the rate provided in the SCC.

54. Final Payment

- 54.1. The final payment shall be made only after the final report and a final statement, identified as such, shall have been submitted by the Consultant and approved as satisfactory by the Procuring Entity. The Services shall be deemed completed and finally accepted by the Procuring Entity and the final report and final statement shall be deemed approved by the Procuring Entity as satisfactory ninety (90) calendar days after receipt of the final report and final statement by the Procuring Entity unless the Procuring Entity, within such ninety (90)-day period, gives written notice to the Consultant specifying in detail deficiencies in the Services, the final report or final statement. Within three (3) months from the start of the Study, the Consultant shall submit a separate Technical Paper on the Existing Operational System for each study port.
6. The Consultant shall review and analyze past data on cargo, vessel and passenger traffic. The analyses of the cargo traffic shall be segregated into foreign and domestic cargo, inward and outward as well as containerized (lift-on/lift-off, roll-on/roll-off or other type of handling), bulk, break-bulk and other non-containerized cargo. The various commodity types shall be analyzed as to volume, level of containerization and other characteristics. The particulars of vessels in terms of length overall (LOA), GRT, DWT, required water depth, etc., shall also be looked into. The passenger traffic shall be categorized into arriving and departing passengers.
7. The Consultant shall prepare forecasts of cargo, vessel and passenger traffic, with details of the methods and parameters used in the projection. The projections must show in detail the source and segregation of foreign and domestic cargo, inward and outward cargo and passengers, containerized (volume and TEUs/Boxes) and non-containerized cargo. In the forecasts of containerized cargo, the Consultant shall analyze the type of commodities and determine the future level of container usage. The forecasts of vessel traffic must indicate the projected average shipload, number of ship-calls and other particulars that are required for the proposed developments.

The traffic forecasts should not be limited only to the normal traffic but the Consultant shall assess and take into account relevant economic activities and development within the influence area of the port that may generate additional traffic, if any.

Likewise, the Consultant shall take into consideration existing and planned development or expansion of nearby ports which may affect the forecasting of port traffic. The Consultant shall assess probable diversion of traffic taking into consideration travel time and transport costs, among others. If such diverted traffic is likely, the projection should show separately the normal from the generated/induced and/or diverted traffic.

The Consultant shall present the regional and local socio-economic framework and its port hinterlands, considering that these are some of the sources of the port's cargo traffic and correspondingly on the ports required future expansion.

8. The projection of traffic shall be on a yearly basis for the next ten years (2018 to 2027) and every five years thence for the next fifteen years for a total of 25 years.
9. The Consultant shall ensure that all traffic forecasts are determined impartially, fairly and as a result of extensive consultations, if necessary through public hearings, with all stakeholders. Within four (4) months from the start of the Study, the Consultant shall submit a separate Technical Paper on Traffic Forecasts for each study port describing the methodology, assumptions and parameters used in preparing the forecasts.
10. The Consultant shall formulate a Master Plan for each of the selected ports based on 25-year forecasts. As much as possible, the Consultant shall prepare the short, medium and long term plan and at least three alternative schemes of the Master Plan taking into consideration the physical and natural conditions, among others. The advantages and disadvantages for each alternative shall be presented together with the recommended option.

Where there are limitations on the existing location of the Port in terms of its future expansion, and/or limitation in terms of land- and water-side access to the existing Port, the Consultant shall assess other sites for the port expansion and recommend a suitable port site. Such recommendation shall be incorporated in the Master Plan.

The Consultant shall also analyze the existing and future road access to the port to prevent a situation where usage of modern facilities will be hindered due to poor road access.

11. On the basis of the projections (demand) and the capacity of the port (supply), the Consultant shall determine the need to improve and/or expand the port facilities using the projected traffic of 2027 as the design traffic. Within five (5) months from the start of the Study, the Consultant shall submit a separate Technical Paper on the Port Master Plan for each study port.

3.3. PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT AND OPERATION

1. Taking into consideration the comments of various stakeholders on the Consultant's initial traffic forecasts, the Consultant shall refine the traffic forecasts as well as the Master Plan that PPA will adopt.
2. On the basis of the design traffic year of 2027, the Consultant shall determine the port facilities required and define the improvements, additional port facilities and/or expansion to handle the traffic in the design year.
3. The Consultant shall determine the types of berths, the optimum number of such berths, the berth lengths, storage areas and other port facilities required both on the landside and waterside as well as the preliminary design of the structures and estimated costs of such facilities within a $\pm 15\%$ level of accuracy. The Consultant shall also undertake the preliminary design and prepare cost estimates for any repair/rehabilitation work on the existing facilities, if any. The estimated costs shall be prepared based on a pay-item basis.
4. The Consultant shall define the appropriate cargo handling systems and procedures, the type and number of equipment appropriate for the proposed physical development, organizational structure and staffing for the private operators, including the determination of the investment, repair/maintenance and operating costs. Such investment and operating costs shall be segregated between that of PPA, if any, and the private operator.
5. The Consultant shall prepare the preliminary design criteria for both the physical structures and the proposed cargo handling equipment.
6. The Consultant shall prepare the detailed port layout plans including details of major items and dimensions of the same in metric units as well as the implementation schedules.
7. Within six (6) months from the start of the Study, the Consultant shall submit a Technical Report on the Preliminary Engineering and Port Development Plan, to include cost estimates of the recommended development project in each study port.
8. Within seven (7) months from the start of the Study, the Consultant shall submit an Interim Report showing all their findings based on the Scope of Work of Items 3.1, 3.2 and 3.3 above and as contained in the Technical Papers previously submitted incorporating all the comments and suggestions of all stakeholders.

4. The Consultant shall undertake sensitivity analyses on the financial evaluation.
5. Within eight (8) months from the start of the Study, the Consultant shall submit a Draft Final Report of the master plans and feasibility studies for the review of PPA. The report shall contain all the findings, analyses, calculations, plans, drawings and recommendations. 5. Services and Facilities Provided by the Client

Give detailed description of the services and facilities made available to the Consultant, and the time and manner of its availment.

6. Consultant's Representations Regarding Costs and Charges

Breakdown of Remuneration Rates, WB funded projects using Quality Based Selection, Selection Based on the Consultant's Qualifications and Single Source Selection.

1. Review of Remuneration Rates

1.1 The remuneration rates for staff are made up of salary, social costs, overheads, fee that is profit, and any premium or allowance paid for projects away from headquarters. To assist the Consultant in preparing for financial negotiations, a sample form giving a breakdown of rates is attached (no financial information should be included in the Technical Proposal). Agreed breakdown sheets shall form part of the negotiated contract.

1.2 The Procuring Entity is charged with the custody of Government funds and is expected to exercise prudence in the expenditure of these funds. The Procuring Entity is, therefore, concerned with the reasonableness of the firm's Financial Proposal, and, during negotiations, it expects to be able to review audited financial statements backing up the Consultant's remuneration rates, certified by an independent auditor. The Consultant shall be prepared to disclose such audited financial statements for the last three years, to substantiate its rates, and accept that its proposed rates and other financial matters are subject to scrutiny. Rate details are discussed below.

(i) Salary

This is the gross regular cash salary paid to the individual in the Consultant's home office. It shall not contain any premium for work away from headquarters or bonus (except where these are included by law or government regulations).

(ii) Bonus

Bonuses are normally paid out of profits. Because the Procuring Entity does not wish to make double payments for the same item, staff bonuses shall not normally be included in the rates. Where the Consultant's accounting system is such that the percentages of social costs and overheads are based on total revenue, including bonuses, those percentages shall be adjusted downward accordingly. Where national policy requires that thirteen (13) months' pay be given for twelve (12) months' work, the profit element need not be adjusted downward. Any discussions on bonuses shall be supported by audited documentation, which shall be treated as confidential.

(iii) Social Costs

Social costs are the costs to the Consultant of staff's non-monetary benefits. These items include, inter alia, pension, medical and life insurance costs, and the cost of a staff member being sick or on vacation. In this regard, the cost of leave for public holidays is not an acceptable social cost nor is the cost of leave taken during the Contract if no additional staff replacement has been provided. Additional leave taken at the end of the Contract in accordance with the Consultant's leave policy is acceptable as a social cost.

(iv) Cost of Leave

The principles of calculating the cost of total days leave per annum as a percentage of basic salary shall normally be as follows:

$$\text{Leave cost as percentage of salary}^{11} = \frac{\text{total days leave} \times 100}{[365 - w - ph - v - s]}$$

It is important to note that leave can be considered a social cost only if the Procuring Entity is not charged for the leave taken.

(v) Overheads

Overhead expenses are the firm's business costs that are not directly related to the execution of the project and shall not be reimbursed as separate items under the Contract. Typical items are home office costs (partner's time, non-billable time, time of senior staff monitoring the project, rent, support staff, research, staff training, marketing, etc.), the cost of staff not currently employed on revenue-earning projects, and business promotion costs. During negotiations, audited financial statements, certified as correct by an independent auditor and supporting the last three years' overheads, shall be available for discussion, together with detailed lists of items making up the overheads and the percentage by which each relates to basic salary. The Procuring Entity does not accept an add-on margin for social charges, overhead expenses, etc., for staff who are not permanent employees of the firm. In such case, the firm shall be entitled only to administrative costs and fee on the monthly payments charged for subcontracted staff.

(vi) Fee or Profit

The fee or profit shall be based on the sum of the salary, social costs, and overhead. If any bonuses paid on a regular basis are listed, a corresponding reduction in the profit element shall be expected. Fee or profit shall not be allowed on travel or other reimbursable expenses, unless in the latter case an unusually large amount of procurement of equipment is required. The Consultant shall note that payments shall be made against an agreed estimated payment schedule as described in the draft form of the Contract.

¹¹ Where w = weekends, ph = public holidays, v = vacation, and s = sick leave.

(vii) Away from Headquarters Allowance or Premium

Some consultants pay allowances to staff working away from headquarters. Such allowances are calculated as a percentage of salary and shall not draw overheads or profit. Sometimes, by law, such allowances may draw social costs. In this case, the amount of this social cost shall still be shown under social costs, with the net allowance shown separately. For concerned staff, this allowance, where paid, shall cover home education, etc.; these and similar items shall not be considered as reimbursable costs.

(viii) Subsistence Allowances

Subsistence allowances are not included in the rates, but are paid separately and in local currency. No additional subsistence is payable for dependents — the subsistence rate shall be the same for married and single team members.

UNDP standard rates for the particular country may be used as reference to determine subsistence allowances.

2. Reimbursables

2.1 The financial negotiations shall further focus on such items as out-of-pocket expenses and other reimbursables. These costs may include, but are not restricted to, cost of surveys, equipment, office rent, supplies, international and local travel, computer rental, mobilization and demobilization, insurance, and printing. These costs may be either fixed or reimbursable in foreign or local currency.

3. Bank Guarantee

3.1 Payments to the Consultant, including payment of any advance based on cash flow projections covered by a bank guarantee, shall be made according to an agreed estimated schedule ensuring the firm regular payments in local and foreign currency, as long as the services proceed as planned.
